

Reconstruction: “The 2nd Civil War”

Reconstruction's Key Questions

1. How do we bring the South "back" into the Union?

4. What branch of government should control the process of Reconstruction?

2. How do we rebuild the South after its destruction during the war?

3. How do we integrate and protect newly-emancipated black freedmen?

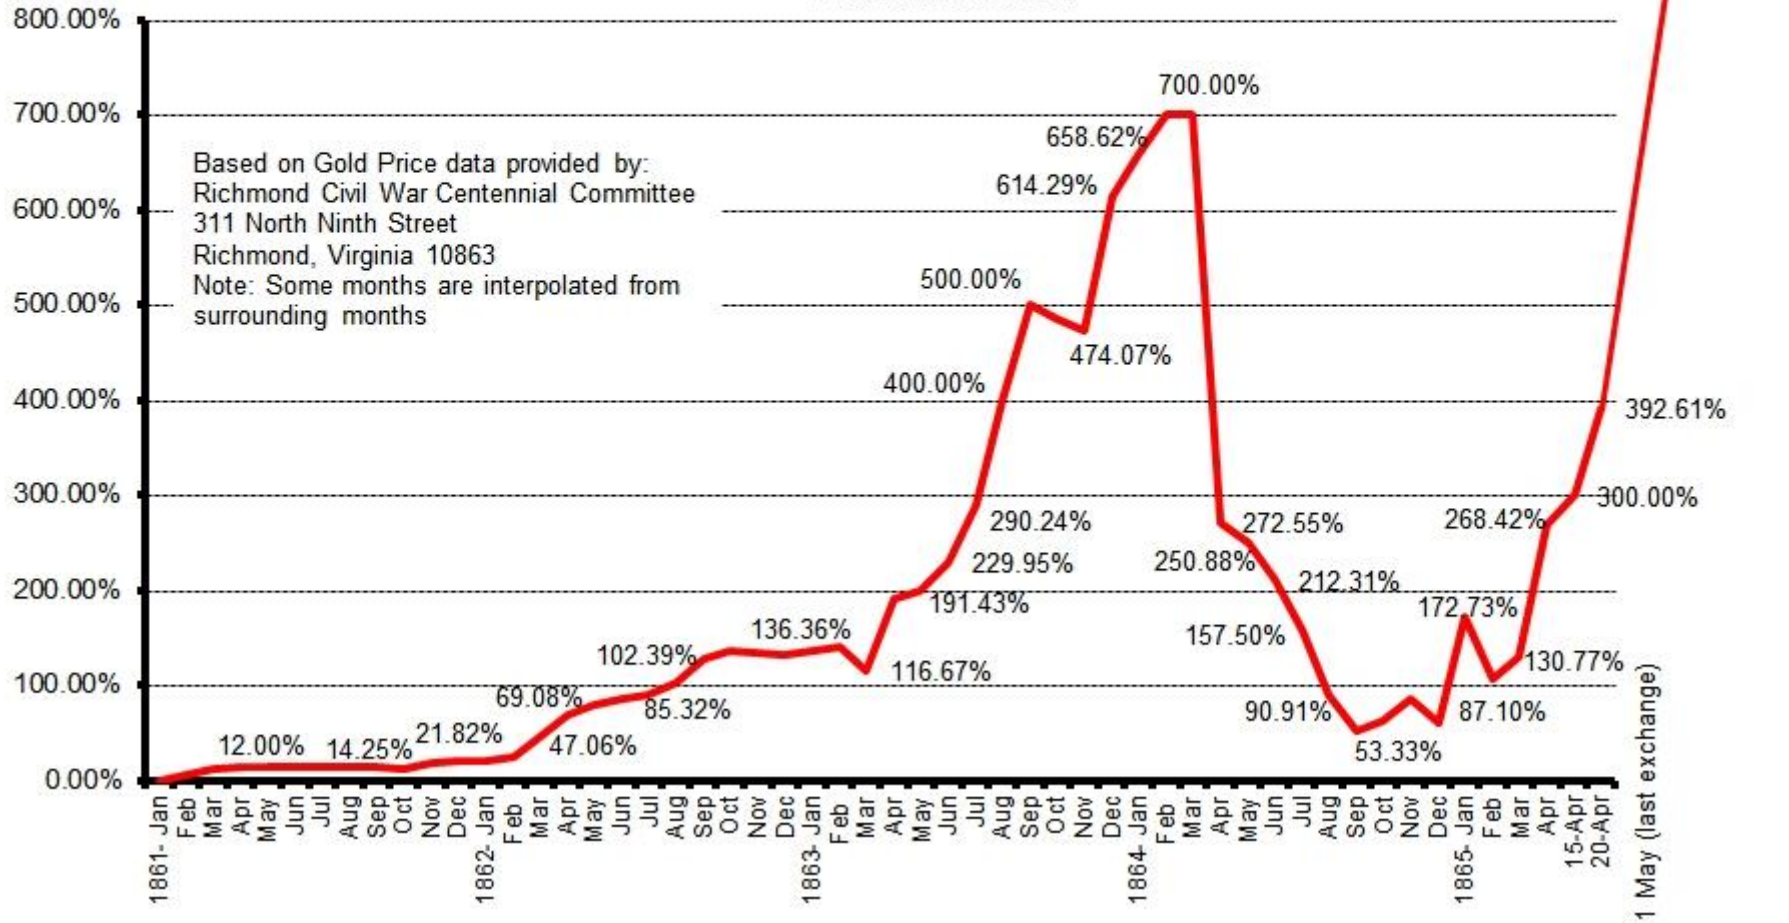

The South After the War

- Property loss
- Value of farms and plantations declined steeply
- Cotton lost much of its value and suffered from neglect and loss of workers
- South's transportation network devastated

Challenges for Blacks

Had gained freedom, though still faced
many issues:

- Economic “ground zero”
- Uneducated
- At a disadvantage in the job market

Wanted educational and economic opportunities

What to do about the South?

Republicans disagreed over how to treat the South

“With malice toward none and charity toward all”

The Proclamation of Amnesty and Reconstruction (Lincoln’s plan)

- Issued Dec. 1863
- Gave forgiveness to those who pledged Union loyalty and support for emancipation
- When 10% of voters in a state had taken oath of loyalty to Union, a new state govt could be organized
 - No “major player” in the Confederacy (political or military) could be a member of the new govt
- New govt was required to ban slavery in their state constitutions
- Property that was taken by the Union would be restored to the original owners (except high-ranking military officers of the CSA)

Wade-Davis Bill (1864)

- Required 50% of the 1860 voters to take an “iron clad” oath of allegiance (swearing they had never voluntarily aided the rebellion)
- Required a state constitutional convention held before election of state officials
- Put states under control of a military governor
- Required specific safeguards of freedmen’s liberties enacted
- Lincoln “pocket-vetoes” the bill, which angers Radical Republicans (passed on 2 July, only days before session adjournment)

Lincoln's Assassination 14 April 1865

VP Andrew Johnson becomes the 17th president of the U.S.

Andrew Johnson

From Tennessee

- Born into poor family
- Hated planter-elite, but held no ill-will toward poor Southerners
- Some Southerners felt he was a traitor (only Southern Congressman to not secede)

Johnson's Attitude

-Felt blacks had limited rights, but that did not include a role in govt

“White men alone must manage the South”

In the fall of 1865, Johnson overturned Sherman's Field Order 15 (“40 acres and a mule”)

Johnson's Plan for Reconstruction (issued while Congress was out of session April – December 1865)

Additions to Lincoln's Plan:

1. Conventions must be called in states to repeal secession
2. State constitutions must ban slavery
3. Southern states must refuse to pay Confederate debts
 - Meant South was declaring bankruptcy; refusing to pay debt meant that outside sources and countries would refuse to aid in the future
4. Offered amnesty upon simple oath to all except Confederate civil and military officers and those with property over $20,000 (they could apply directly to Johnson)
5. Named provisional governors in Confederate states and called them to oversee elections for constitutional conventions

-When Congress met in December, all but one state was restored

-Congress was unhappy, and a battle for control of Reconstruction begins

	State	Seceded from Union	Readmitted to Union ¹
1.	South Carolina	Dec. 20, 1860	July 9, 1868
2.	Mississippi	Jan. 9, 1861	Feb. 23, 1870
3.	Florida	Jan. 10, 1861	June 25, 1868
4.	Alabama	Jan. 11, 1861	July 13, 1868
5.	Georgia	Jan. 19, 1861	July 15, 1870 ²
6.	Louisiana	Jan. 26, 1861	July 9, 1868
7.	Texas	March 2, 1861	March 30, 1870
8.	Virginia	April 17, 1861	Jan. 26, 1870
9.	Arkansas	May 6, 1861	June 22, 1868
10.	North Carolina	May 20, 1861	July 4, 1868
11.	Tennessee	June 8, 1861	July 24, 1866

EFFECTS?

1. Disenfranchised certain leading Confederates
2. Pardoned planter aristocrats brought them back to political power to control state organizations
3. Radical Republicans were outraged that the planter elite were back in power in the South

Growing Northern Alarm:

-Many Southern state constitutions fell short of minimum requirements

-Johnson granted 13,500 special pardons

-Revival of Southern defiance, resulting in →

BLACK CODES

- Could not own property or firearms
- Curfews
- Could be arrested if found to be unemployed

Black Codes

-Designed to keep freedmen dependent on the Southern agriculture (and the plantation)

-Allowed the right to marry, own limited and specific property

-Could not serve on juries, testify against whites, or enlist in state militias

-Guarantee stable labor now that blacks were emancipated

-Restore pre-emancipation system of race relations

Southern Black Codes relied on vagrancy laws to pressure freedmen to sign labor contracts:

- Vagrants could be arrested and imprisoned at hard labor
- County sheriffs could “hire out” black vagrants to a white employer to work off their punishment

(The courts customarily waived such punishment for white vagrants, allowing them to take an “oath of poverty” instead)

THE CONVICT QUESTION.

SHALL WE CONTINUE OR ABOLISH THE LEASE SYSTEM?

What Many Arkansas Journals Think—A Strong Sentiment For Working Convicts on the Roads.

THE ARKANSAS GAZETTE is in favor of working convicts on public highways. A very safe and practical solution of the convict lease system.—Springdale News.

One of the issues in the next campaign in Arkansas will be the convict lease system and the Tennessee trouble will do much toward securing the repeal of the

- Loitering, gambling, riding the rails, disturbing the peace

- Mississippi's law required blacks to have written evidence of employment for the coming year each January; if they left before the end of the contract, they would be forced to forfeit earlier wages and were subject to arrest
- In SC, a law prohibited blacks from holding any occupation other than farmer or servant unless they paid an annual tax of $10 to $100
- In SC, no person of color could become an artisan, mechanic, or shopkeeper

Challenges for Blacks in the South

- ❑ Paid wages, or allowed to rent and farmland
- ❑ Sharecropping became the most common job of a newly freed slave, some were tenant farmers as well
- ❑ Made it easy for blacks to be kept in a debt-peonage situation (the new form of slave labor)

The Sharecropper Cycle of Poverty

- 1 Sharecropper is provided land and seed. In exchange, he promises landowner half the crop.

- 2 Sharecropper buys food and clothing on credit from landowner's store.

By the time sharecroppers had shared their crops and paid their debts, they rarely had any money left. Often they were uneducated and could not argue with landowners or merchants who cheated them. A sharecropper frequently became tied to one plantation, having no choice but to work until his debts were paid.

- 4 Sharecropper gives landowner crop to sell. Sharecropper will get half the earnings, minus the cost of his purchases for the year.

- 3 Sharecropper plants and harvests crop.

- 5 When settling up, landowner says that sharecropper owes more than he has earned.

- 6 To pay debt, sharecropper must promise landowner a greater share of next year's crop.

Attitude Towards Blacks

- Local sheriffs supported and enforced Black Codes
- White citizens felt motivated to “keep order” in the South

The Ku Klux Klan was founded in 1866

- ❑ Terrorist organization
- ❑ Violence against blacks rarely prosecuted

The White League – paramilitary arm of the Democratic party (LA); used violence to deter freedmen from voting

Freedmen's Bureau:

- Organized into districts covering the 11 former “rebel” states, the border states of MD, KY, WV and D.C.
- Intended as a temporary agency to last through the war and one year afterward to assist freed blacks and poor whites
- Under the authority of the Dept. of War
 - Employees were Civil War veterans
- Members of the Bureau were federal agents living in Southern states
- Due to their intended purpose were frequently threatened by hostile Southern whites angered by their presence

Freedmen's Bureau Success

- Fed millions of people, built hospitals, provided medical aid, negotiated labor contracts for ex-slaves, and settled labor disputes
- Helped former slaves legalize marriages and locate lost relatives
- Assisted black veterans
- Built thousands of public schools for blacks
- Helped to found such colleges as Howard University in D.C., Fisk University in TN, and Hampton University, VA

“Plenty to eat and nothing to do.”

FRANK LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER.

“THE POPULAR IDEA OF THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU—PLENTY TO EAT AND NOTHING TO DO.”

Congress and the President

- Congress bars Southern Congressmen
- Joint Committee on Reconstruction is created
- February 1866 → Johnson vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau Bill
- March 1866 → Johnson vetoed the 1866 Civil Rights Act
- Congress passed both bills over Johnson's vetoes with a 2/3rd majority override → 1st time in U. S. History

Republican Concerns

Northerners felt if Southern states were allowed to abuse freedmen, the Northern victory would be diminished

- ❑ Radical Republicans wanted to reshape Southern society; led by Thaddeus Stephens
 - Wanted freed slaves to have economic opportunities and political equality
- ❑ Moderate Republicans controlled Congress
 - Didn't want to change society, but wanted to protect freedmen
 - Passed "Civil Rights Act of 1866"
 - ❑ Johnson vetoes, which pushes moderates to help Radical Republicans

Reconstruction Acts of 1867

Command of the Army Act

-A president must issue all Reconstruction orders through the commander of the military (Grant)

Tenure of Office Act

-A president could not remove any officials (especially Cabinet members) without the Senate's consent (if the position originally required Senate approval)

- Designed to protect radical members of Lincoln's gov't
- Constitutional?

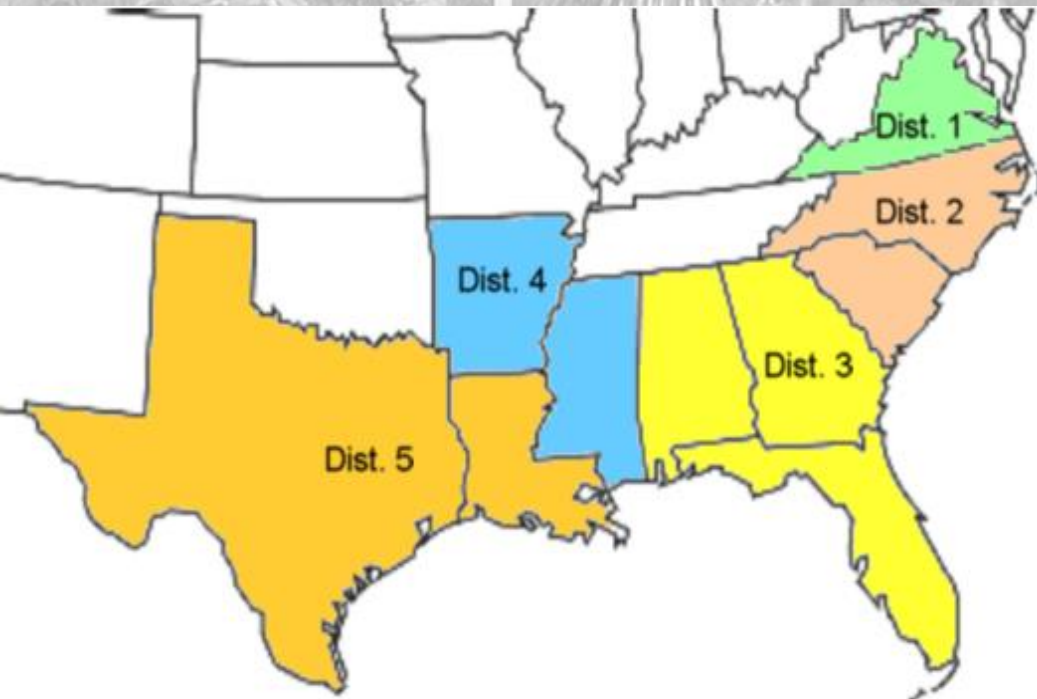

Edwin Stanton:
Secretary of War

Reconstruction Acts of 1867

Military Reconstruction Act

- Implement Reconstruction policies in the 10 Southern states that refused to ratify the 14th Amendment
- Divided the 10 “unreconstructed states” into 5 military districts

Tennessee is readmitted to the union after ratifying the 14th Amendment (24 July 1866)

14th Amendment - Ratified July 1868

Section One: state and federal citizenship for all persons regardless of race so long as they are born or naturalized citizens. (Provide a constitutional guarantee of the rights and security of freed people)

Section Two: no state would be allowed to abridge the “privileges and immunities” of citizens

Section Three: prohibits the election/appointment to any federal or state office of any citizen who assisted in the rebellion

Section Four: CSA war debt goes unpaid (ensuring foreign refusal for aid) as well as freed slaves

Section Five: “Enforcement Clause” – Congress can pass any law that would combat violations of this amendment

What are some good examples of future acts from Congress using section five?

Johnson's Impeachment

-Edwin Stanton: Lincoln's Secretary of War

- ❑ Stayed on with the Johnson administration
- ❑ Supported Congressional Republican efforts towards Reconstruction
- ❑ Johnson fires Edwin Stanton

1868: Johnson's Impeachment

- The House of Representatives voted to impeach Johnson for violating the Tenure of Office Act
 - HoR is responsible for the vote to impeach (look at evidence and decide to pursue a formal accusation of crime)
- The Senate oversees the criminal trial in an impeachment (need two-thirds of the Senate to convict)
 - Fails to convict Johnson by one vote and he remains in office

Extending Suffrage

- Much of the voter base of black men were veterans of the Civil War
- In many cases they were unprepared to vote
- Congress overrode Johnson's veto to allow black men the right to vote in D.C. in 1867
- States begin voting to deny suffrage →

October
1867

Suffrage in the North: white voters in Ohio defeated a referendum to enfranchise black men in the state

November
1867

Suffrage in the North: white voters in Kansas and Minnesota defeated referenda to enfranchise black men in their states

April 1868

Suffrage in the North: white voters in Michigan defeated a referendum to enfranchise black men in the state

EMANCIPATION

Grandfather Clause

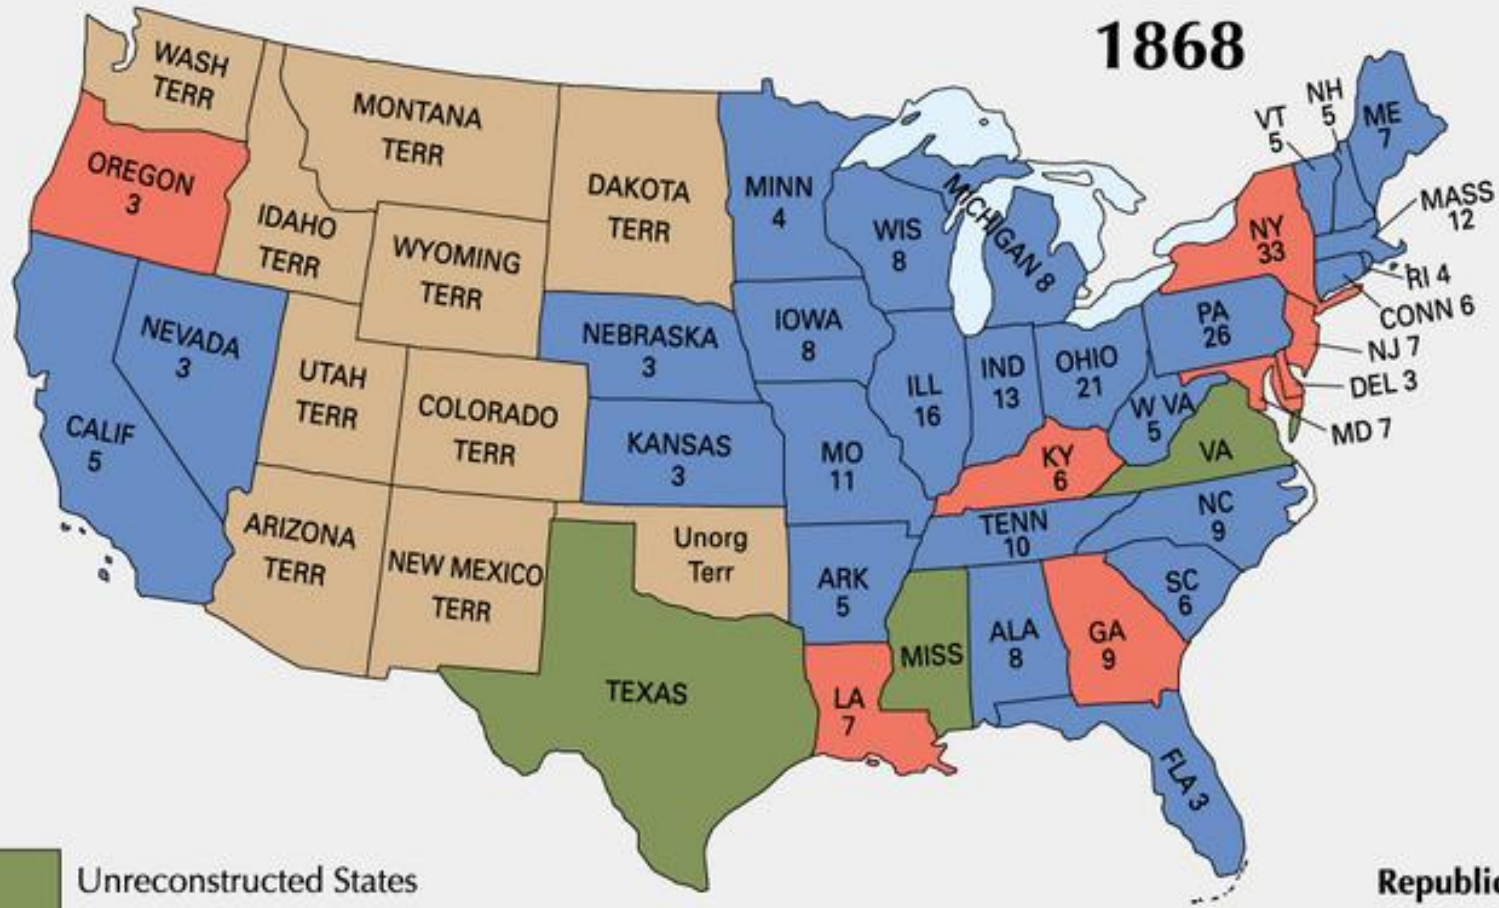

Those who had the right to vote prior to 1866 or 1867, or their lineal descendants, would be exempt from “educational, property, or tax requirements for voting”

-Why was this clause passed in many states during the 1890s?

Not coincidentally, only whites voted in the South before 1867

Grant Takes Over

During the impeachment, the Republican party nominates General Grant as the presidential candidate for 1868 election

- ❑ Largely due to the black vote and impact of the RRs policy changes

The Fifteenth Amendment – 3 Feb 1870

Prohibits national and state governments from denying a citizen the right to vote based on “race, color, or previous condition of servitude”

- ❑ Brought millions of potential new voters to the Republican Party
- ❑ Did not ban denial of suffrage for reasons other than race

Reconstruction “Success Stories”

New govts brought change:

- Most Southern states saw their first public school systems
- Repaired infrastructure
- Facilities open to all Southerners, but segregated by race

Nearly 700 black men served in Southern state legislatures during Reconstruction

- 16 black men elected to Congress
- Hiram Revels, a Senator, took Jefferson Davis' spot from Mississippi
- The other Senator from Mississippi was also black, a former slave who has escaped from VA before the war - Blanche Bruce

“Freedom” meant a variety of things

- ❑ Reuniting with family/employment
- ❑ Opportunities in the West or North (many financially limited to the South)

- Many attained some level of education
- Began to establish own institutions:
 - ❑ Churches – built a sense of community
 - ❑ Schools – colleges and universities

Establishment of Historically Black Colleges/Universities in the South

Enforcement/Force Acts

-Passed between 1870 – 1871

-Protected blacks' right to vote, hold office, serve on juries, and receive equal protection of the law through criminalizing behavior that stood in the way of these rights

- If states failed to enforce, the laws allowed the federal government to intervene
- Targeted the KKK successfully for a temporary time

Reconstruction and Land Ownership

Giving away planters' land to former slaves was seen as too extreme

- ❑ Congress passed a law setting aside 45m acres of government owned land to provide free farms; repealed June 1876 – and considered a failure by the Radical Republicans

Southern Homestead Act

Southern cities grew

- ❑ Atlanta became more of a business center
- ❑ Workers earned lower wages than in the North, which perpetuated cycle of debt

Industrial Growth

“Redeemers”

- Wealthy businessmen, farmers and merchants
- White Democrats who shared a general disdain for Republicans as well as rights of blacks
- Goal was to destroy the Republican political institutions formed and racial progress reached during Reconstruction – literally to “redeem” the South
- Sought to end Republican-controlled state governments as well as remove blacks from political positions and restrict their overall right to equality

Republican Government Brings Change to the South

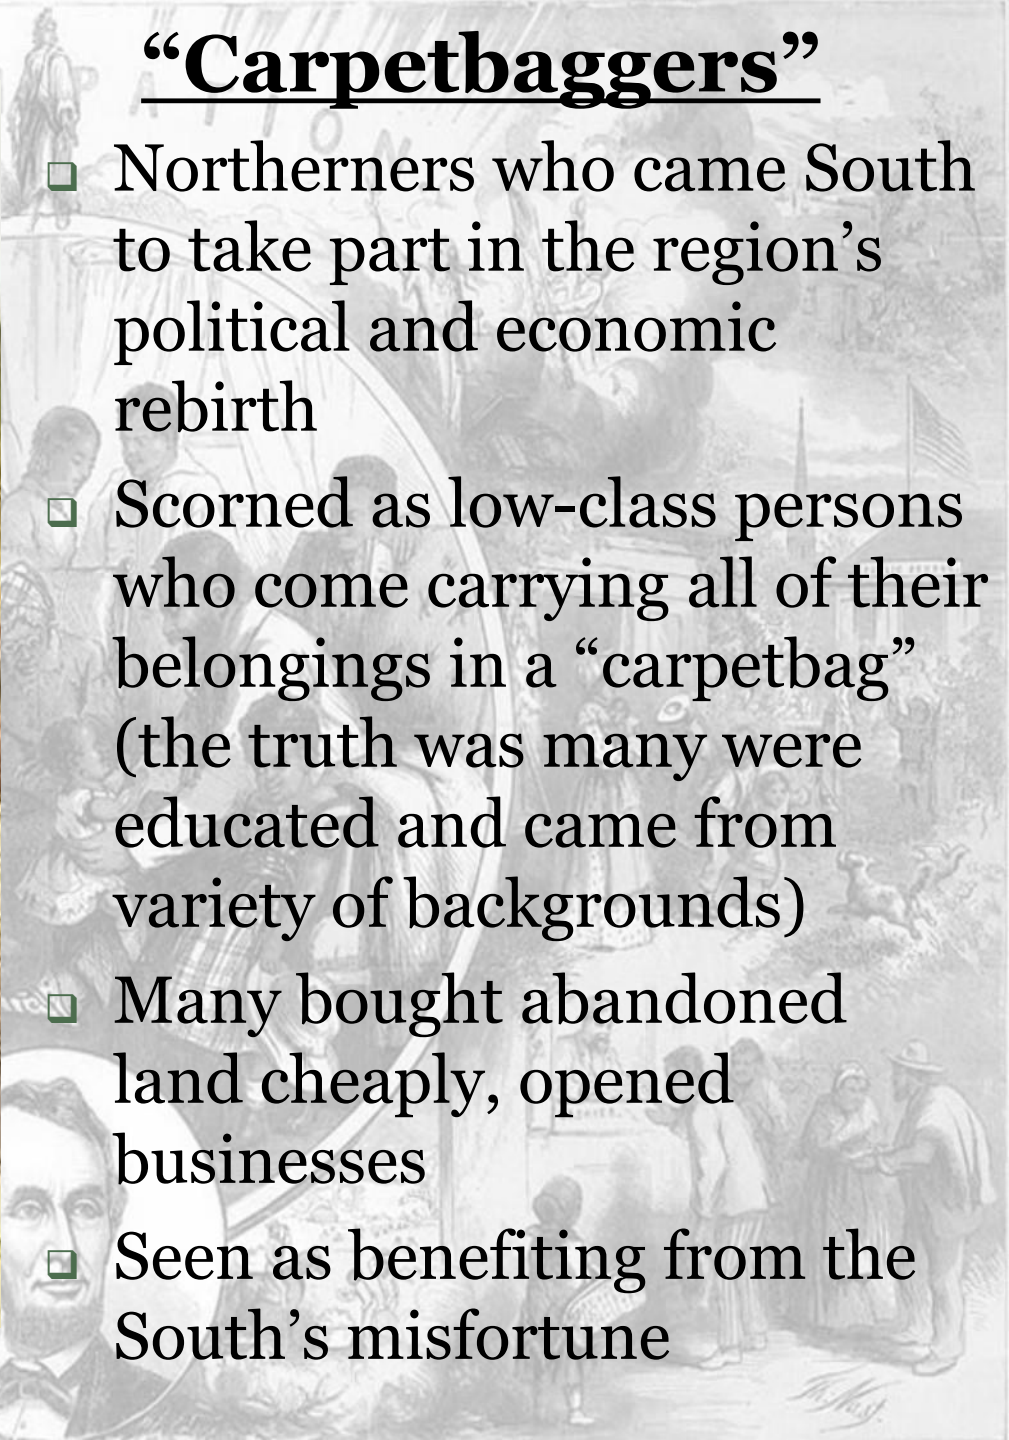

“Scalawags”

- ❑ Derogatory nickname given to Southerners who supported the shift towards Republican congressional and military control in South
- ❑ Many were farmers who never owned slaves
- ❑ Some wanted to prevent return of planter elite, others wanted to end dependence on plantation agriculture

“Carpetbaggers”

- ❑ Northerners who came South to take part in the region’s political and economic rebirth
- ❑ Scorned as low-class persons who come carrying all of their belongings in a “carpetbag” (the truth was many were educated and came from variety of backgrounds)
- ❑ Many bought abandoned land cheaply, opened businesses
- ❑ Seen as benefiting from the South’s misfortune

Political Spectrum of Reconstruction

Radicals

Unionists

Redeemers

KKK

Federal Supremacy
Black Civil Rights
Military Occupation

States' Rights
Blacks as Second-Class Citizens
Home Rule

Reconstruction Collapses

- Violence increases and support for Reconstruction policies in the North declines due to economic issues such as the Panic of 1873
- Grant refuses to assist the South further claiming the North was “tired out” by other issues seeming more pressing
- Northern manufacturers wanted cheaper and more reliable cotton
- Ends formally with the results of the Election of 1876

Black codes → Jim Crow Laws (1877 – 1964)

At first these laws were called Black Codes, but they came to be known as Jim Crow Laws after 1877

Jim Crow was the name of character in a minstrel show

Minstrel shows were popular during that time, and they featured white actors in "black face"

Jim Crow represented the fact that these new Black Codes were poorly disguised, racist laws
